BUSINESS MANAGER

Envirolaska is currently recruiting for a Business Manager and eventual Partner for a well-positioned and high growth start-up operation in the Waste Management industry. No capital is required on your part (our operation is fully capitalized), however, the ideal candidate will be an early stage employee expected to fill a variety of leadership and operational activities. Candidate will be expected to support numerous roles within our organization and will be working in tandem with the owner with all areas of the business.

A head for business, enthusiasm, common sense, and hustle are pre-requisites. This is a fast pace and dynamic operation, so focus, a high level of personal integrity along with abilities to execute amidst changing conditions are also required. To support this candidate, we will provide training and orientation with professional collaborators along with the opportunity to obtain industry specific certifications as necessary.

The ideal candidate must be computer savvy, good with details and organization, possess a genuine interest in people as well as enjoy the process of interacting with others. Mechanical aptitude, experience within a highly-regulated industry, a strong sales background, and/or management experience within a growth oriented or early stage enterprise is positive, but not mandatory.

Depending on the applicant, full or part time arrangements could be considered. Compensation would be dependent on experience and the level of commitment from the applicant. Profit sharing and other benefits could also be negotiated depending on the candidate along with the contributions and commitments they bring to the table.

A non-compete and non-disclosure agreement will be required as part of the application process.

To express your interest, please reply to this posting with a resume and brief statement on your background.
